How strong are your fraud defences?

All schools are facing significant challenges. These include the need to manage limited budgets, staff shortages and other teaching disruptions.

It's during such times that schools are at the greatest risk of fraud. One-off opportunists and career criminals will look to exploit weaknesses in a school's controls and systems. Resulting losses can significantly damage a school's funding, reputation and ability to deliver an effective service.

Fraud awareness training for all staff can help to manage these risks and stop fraudsters in their tracks.

How can we help?

Meritec's 'Focus on' portfolio of digital learning courses covers a range of topics including fraud, cybercrime and risk management. These courses are widely used and are proven in many organisations across the UK.
